

Spring and Summer Internships COMMUNICATIONS

Urbandale, Iowa • Part-Time (Spring) • Full-Time (Summer) • Paid

Overview

The National Pork Producers Council (NPPC) is the voice of the U.S. pork industry, advocating for 60,000 producers nationwide. With offices in Urbandale, Iowa, and Washington, D.C., NPPC engages with lawmakers, regulators, and industry partners to support a sustainable, globally competitive pork industry.

This internship offers experience in public policy, advocacy, and communications. Interns will work with NPPC's communications team to connect with producers, government officials, and industry leaders.

What You'll Gain

Hands-on experience:

- » Creating and publishing content across social, web, and email platforms
- » Translating policy issues into clear messaging for producers, media, and stakeholders
- » Supporting national campaigns and major NPPC events (with travel to Washington, D.C.)
- » Building skills in brand management, media relations, and stakeholder engagement
- » Expanding your professional portfolio and industry network

Timeline

Below is an overview of the internship schedule and selection process. Opportunities for industry travel will also be discussed during interviews.

- » Spring 2027: Part-time, January–May, primarily remote with the option for in-office hours in Urbandale, Iowa, if location and schedule allows
- » Summer 2027: Full-time, May–August, based in Urbandale, Iowa, with hybrid flexibility

Interviews are tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, October 21 and Thursday, October 22.

Apply Today!

Please scan the QR code to submit your cover letter, resume, and two writing samples by Thursday, October 15.

Connect with us:

